James Tod, son of W. J. Tod, of Maple Hill, was painfully injured and his automobile was badly damaged when the machine, with Mrs. Tod at the wheel, went into the ditch on the West Sixth avenue road one mile west of the state hospital. Mrs. Tod was forced to drive into the railing on a bridge to escape striking a burgy and when the car passed the bridge the front wheels were smashed so she could not steer.

Mrs. Tod was able to hold to the steering wheel and was not injured as the car did not turn over. Mr. Tod was thrown partly through the wind was thrown partly through the wind was thrown partly through the wind wheel and received a bruise on the forehead and a cut on the leg. Mr. and Mrs. Tod were brought to Topeka in a passing automobile and were able to leave shortly afterward for Maple Hill in another car. The front part of their machine was badly smashed.
